Jean-Marc Falter to become new SNB delegate for regional economic relations for the Geneva region

With effect from 1 October 2012, Jean-Marc Falter will take on the function of Swiss National Bank delegate for regional economic relations for the Geneva region. He assumes this function from Marco Föllmi, who is retiring at the end of the year. Jean-Marc Falter is currently Senior Lecturer for labour economics and economics of education at the Centre for Applied Economics at the University of Geneva, and Deputy Manager of the Leading House in the Economics of Vocational Education.

The SNB's delegates for regional economic relations (of which there are eight) are constantly in touch with a large number of enterprises from the different economic sectors and industries. Their reports are a valuable source of information for the Governing Board in its assessment of the economic situation. The delegates also have the task of briefing their respective regions on the SNB's policies.
